IT is believed that two men were killed by the falling of the big Columbia bridge over the Susquehanna River, which entails a loss of a quarter of a million dollars. The bridge was a mile and a quarter long.

IT is said that Japan has lost more of her citizens by tidal waves, earthquakes and fires during the past three or four months than she did in her great war with China. If she is compelled to encounter similar misfortunes during the next nine months she will have to record a decrease instead of an increase of her population during the year.

A DISPATCH from Springfield, Ill says: Chairman Taubeneck, of the people's party state central committee, has received the resignation of the candidates of that party for congress and legislature in the territory composing the Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth districts. The Democratic candidates for the same offices in that territory will hand in their resignations. Both candidates will then get together and nominate a fusion ticket. By these means the populists hope to secure a fusion man as a successor to Senator John M. Palmer in the United States senate.

THE executive committee of the national Democratic party held a meeting at Chicago on Friday afternoon at which much important campaign work was accomplished. All the members of the committee present brought encouraging reports about the condition in their respective states. Perhaps the most interesting report was made by captain J. M. Faulkner, who stated that every county in Alabama was organized and that the prospects for a heavy vote are very bright. Mr. Spellman, of Louisiana, and Mr. Krauthoff, of Missouri, also reported a highly encouraging state of affairs in their respective states.

HAVE you heard any gold bug give a good reason why silver was demonetized in 1873? The silver dollar was not "debased" money then. It was worth $1.03, being more valuable than the gold dollar. The act demonetizing silver was pushed through congress silently and stealthily. That fraud was resorted to to overthrow one-half of the metallic money of the country, proves conclusively that no honest reason could be given to the public then for that act. None has been given since. Of course there were reasons for striking silver down. They were practically the same, however, that animate the burglar and the cracksman.

SENATOR JOHN SHERMAN is engaged in a desperate undertaking. In recent speeches he has been striving to create the impression that the demonetization of silver in 1873 was not accomplished by deception and fraud. Sherman is flying in the face of the record. He is likewise in direct conflict with the statements of the most distinguished public men of all parties, in congress at that time: The zeal of the aged Ohioan in striving to distort the facts is not surprising. He realizes that the finger of suspicion has been leveled at him for a number of years. Sherman has been generally regarded as a leading spirit in encompassing what has been pronounced as one of tha greatest wrongs ever perpetrated against mankind.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN, who was in Cincinnati, Friday, gave out the following signed statement concerning the election.

"I have no doubt of my election. I base my confidence upon the fact that the free coinage sentiment is growing every day. The people are studying the money question, and the study of it is convincing the people generally that there can be no permanent prosperity so long as the gold standard is maintained.

"The gold standard makes a dearer dollar. A dearer dollar means falling prices, and falling prices mean hard times. The people who profit by hard times are relatively so few in number that they would amount to nothing at all but for the fact that they are aided by a considerable number of people, who, not having studied the money question themselves, have received instructions from a few financiers. The number of Republicans who have declared for free silver outnumbers the Democrats who have deserted the ticket, and while the number of silver Republicans is increasing all the time, the number of bolting Democrats is all the time decreasing.

"While I have no doubt as to my election, I believe that the advocate of free coinage should work from now to election day to make the majority in the electoral college so large that no party hereafter will ever dare to propose submission to a foreign financial policy.

IF business men, says the New York Journal, would not take the assertion of others for it that the gold standard is good for them, but were themselves to study the money question, we should hear incalculably less about the enthusiasm of the "business community" hereabout for McKinley. When that candidate, before he was a candidate, denounced President Cleveland for his efforts to demonetize silver, saying the gold standard meant that money should be dear and everything else cheap—that the gold dollar became the master and elerything else the servant—he spoke the plain truth. Low prices are not good for the business man, and low prices are an inevitable result of a contracting currency. When there is a slack demand for farm produce and labor the great majority of the consumers of the country have their purchasing power lessened, and no business man will maintain that to impoverish his customers is good for him.

The interest of the mercantile and manufacturing class, the large and small storekeepers, and all business men who are not leagued in the trusts, is not with the very rich, the value of whose accumulations is enhanced by the appreciating dollar of the gold standard; their interest is linked with that of the farmer the mechanic, the laborer, the clerk and the professional man. These are the people whose wants create trade, and if times are not good with them they cannot be good with the business man.

Remonetization would bring silver up to the mint ratio of 16 to 1. The law of supply and demand would insure that. The talk about a flood of silver being dumped on us by the rest of the world is sheer nonsense. Suppose silver did come here. Before it could be used it would have to be turned into dollars, and these dollars necessarily be spent in the purchase of goods. But there is no surplus of silver to flood us. Our own exports of silver now exceed the product of our mines. Free coinage would give the country sufficient money for its needs, and force the now locked-up gold to come out and go into productive industry. Then we should have rising markets, busy factories, employed labor with rising wages, and a population able to feed and clothe itself. It is not overproduction that is troubling us, but under-consumption.

Has the gold standard produced effects so gratifying that sensible business men should vote to maintain it? What promise of good times is there in it?

ONE of the terrors which the near future holds for the gentlemen who carry their entire stock of patriotism in their individual pockets is that in the event of Bryan's election and the inauguration of free coinage gold may go to a premium over silver.

Why this should affright the single standard advocates is not clear to anybody who has eyes to see the condition of the United States at this time. As gold has gone up in purchasing power, everything else, necessarily, has gone down in price. The value of property, in fact, has been cut in two within the past two years. Since, then, gold is already at a premium over other commodities, why should it be intolerable to think of it being at a premium over coined silver also?

Silver bullion, measured in gold has not sunk more rapidly than most of the great staples, measured in the same metal. Indeed, it is a very suggestive fact that silver has kept close company with the necessaries of life in the downward race. Wheat and silver touched their lowest point together. Wheat is as useful to mankind as it ever was, and its fall in the world's markets not due to overproduction. Since much more of it can now be bought for a gold dollar than formerly, it is obvious that the gold dollar has gone to a thieving premium over wheat.

The remonetization of silver will have the double effect of sending the price of silver up and bringing the price of gold down, until the old relation in value between the two metals is restored. It is the honest hundred-cent dollar of bimetallism that the money corners are afraid of, not the "fifty-three cent dollar" of the bogus prophets. Open the mints to both metals alike and they will meet on a level of value at the mint ratio.

The premium which gold now enjoys over the exchangeable property of the United States will be removed by Bryan's election and the establishment of a financial system that, being based on both the precious metals instead of one, will furnish us with sound—money as secure against appreciation as against depreciation.

In the unstable dollar of the gold standard is the harvest of the money manipulators.

AMONG the letters received by the managers of the Bryan meeting at Tammany hall, New York, was the following from John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts:

"I feel that the cry of a people who have long been outraged is more to be pitied, and sooner to be heeded, than the wail of parasites. Therefore as a descendant of two signers of the Declaration of Independenee, I cannot stand idly by and see my people struggle for the same rights that my ancestors fought for during the American revolution without lending my voice that self-government may be enjoyed and our domestic and financial policy may not be dependent on and dictated by the same old enemy.—England."

THE senior member of the largest wholesale grocery house in America Mr. H. K. Thurber, of New York, has left the Republican party and come out for Bryan. He says that if the Democratic nominee goes to the Harlem river with 20,000 he will be elected. The usual figures are from 40,000, to 60,000, but Mr. Thurber says the signs of the times unmistakably point to the election of Bryan, and that too by the aid of the electoral vote of New York. What will Grover Cleveland and his goldbug cabinet say to that?

Washington Latter.

Washington, October 2nd, 1896.—Mr. Bryan's supporters find nothing discouraging in the situation. On the contrary, they have excellent reasons for believing that Mr. Bryan's chances for election are better than those of Mr. McKinley. These reasons are not entirely based upon reports made to the managers of Mr. Bryan's campaign, although there is no doubt of the trustworthiness of these reports as a rule. Those Democrats who are careful not to allow their wishes to become tangled up with their judgment have been making a study of the figures put out by the more conservative supporters of McKinley and have thereby strengthened their belief in Bryan's success. The latest of these tables appeared on the editorial page of the Washington Post, which is strongly for gold. It gives Bryan 295 electoral votes, McKinley 140, and puts 102 in the doubtful column. To accept this table as correct is to be sure that Bryan will be elected, as the 102 electoral votes classed as doubtful, of which Bryan must get 19 to be elected and McKinley must get 84, are made up of the following states: Illinois, Oregon, California, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. It is a very conservative claim to say that Bryan will certainly carry more than five out of these ten states, which would elect him with votes to spare, if the rest of the table be all right, and there is no doubt about that, as with the exceptions of Indiana and Nebraska, it only includes in the Bryan column states which are conceded to Bryan by the Republicans.

Hon. W. E. Chilton, Secretary of state for West Virginia, was one of the party which came to Washington to escort Mr. Bryan to that state. While in Washington Mr. Chilton said; "I am not afraid of the result in West Virginia and have no hesitation in predicting that Bryan will get its electoral vote. Our people are strongly for silver, and many converts have been made from the Republican ranks. The Palmer and Buckner ticket will not poll much of a vote. The Republicans are making the most strenuous efforts for McKinley, and the allegations of coercion and intimidation of railway employes are strictly true. But there is always a reaction against such methods, and a feeling of resentment arises in the minds of the men who are thus coerced that will result in causing hundreds of them to vote the other way."

Gen. W. J. St. Clair, of W. Va., was in Baltimore with Mr. Bryan, and who passed through Washington this week, said: "I found a degree of Bryan enthusiasm in the City of Baltimore that was rather surprising, in view of the tone of its bolting Democratic newspapers. The talk about McKinley's great majority in the Maryland metropolis is all nonsense."

Senator Gorman's disinclination to make ante-election claims and promises adds force to what he told Mr. Bryan and the other gentleman who participated in the conference held in New York City this week. He promised that Mr. Bryan should have the electoral vote of Maryland, and said that he considered that the Democrats still had an even chance to win, notwithstanding the influences that were being used against them.

Democratic confidence, which has been fairly good from the beginning of the campaign, has greatly increased since the conference in New York this week, participated in by Messers. Bryan, Sewall, Chairman Jones, Senator Gorman and other Democratic leaders. At that conference every aspect of the campaign was carefully considered, and the deliberate and unanimous conclusion of those present was that Mr. Bryan was making a great campaign and that unless something not now expected should occur to change the drift of public sentiment in favor of the free coinage of silver he would be elected with a number of electoral votes to spare. It did not take long for this opinion to spread among the rank and file and the result has been a natural increase in Democratic confidence which cannot fail to make itself felt in the work of the campaign.

Senator Faulkner has been getting some very cheering news this week from all around, but that which pleased him most has come from Michigan, California, Iowa and Kansas, which are claimed by some Republicans and put in the doubtful column by others. According to Senator Faulkner's advices neither of them will be carried by McKinley. The Democratic state committee of Michigan reports that state to be absolutely safe for Bryan, and gives the figures to back up the claim; reports California say that it is now only a question of the size of the majority Bryan will get in that state; Iowa considered so safe for Bryan that its prominent stump speakers are being sent into other states, and a poll of Kansas gives Bryan the state by 50,000 majority. ### May be a Tragedy.

Little Rock, Ark., October 3.—Great excitement prevails at Devaill's Bluffs over the discovery of what is believed to be the bloodiest tragedy in the history of Prairie county. Bud Chaffin and his five children are believed to have been murdered and suspicion points to Mrs. Chaffic and John King, her paramour, as the murderers.

Chaffin, with his wife and five children, lived on White river, between Des Arc and Devaill's Bluff. John King, a hired man, lived with the family, and, is said to have alienated the Chaffin woman's affections from her husband.

Neither King or any of the Chaffins have been seen since September 21. On that date King was seen driving away in a wagon in company with Mrs. Chaffin. As they did not return, and nothing was seen of the other members of the family the neighbors began an investigation. When the house in which the Chaffins had lived had been opened blood was found spattered all over the floor, and there were evidences of a terrible butchery having been committed, but no bodies were found. The theory of the officers is that the bodies were thrown into the river. Every effort is being made to locate King and and Mrs. Chaffin.

Big Fire in Jamaica.

New York, October 2.—The steamer Andes, which arrived this afternoon from Jamaican ports, brings news of the great fire which destroyed two-thirds of the town of Jacamel on September 19, 20, and 21. The fire originated on the hill near the cathedral and completely destroyed that edifice. The flames burned seaward and burned all the houses and stores between the hill and sea. No water could be obtained at any time during the fire, which raged from Saturday morning until Tuesday night, when the Andes left. On that night the fire was still smouldering. The loss sustained is estimated at $5,000,000. The fire is supposed to be the work of incendiary. Great distress prevails.

PITTSBURGH EXPOSITION.

The half-way mark has been passed with the eighth annual exhibition of the Western Pennsylvania Exposition Society, and it is agreed by all who have seen the Exposition that it is the greatest possible credit to its managers and to this part of the country at large. Visitors from Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Western Virginia have been very numerous thus far, although for the concluding weeks (and the season ends October 24th), the attendance of those living outside of Pittsburgh promises to be larger than that of any former year. In point of attractiveness the Exposition holds out to the agriculturist, the mechanic and the scientific man generally the most complete object lesson of the general advance of this country along the lines of practical industry, while on the artistic side the manufacturer of the daintier things, which include so many of those that are necessary, is also to the fore at this Exposition. It is difficult to single out the special features, because there is some thing for every one to study.

There has recently been added to the exhibits in Mechanical Hall a complete collection of fruits, minerals and woods, native products of the Southern States, which are in such abundant variety, and so tastefully displayed, that it excites general admiration. All through Mechanical Hall, in the departments of engineering, electricity especially, there is something for the observer and student of progress.

The Picture Gallery of the Exposition, of which a handsome catalogue has just been published, is one of the best ever shown west of New York. In value it represents half a million dollars, one picture, that of the famous French artist, Rochgrosse, having a value of $100,000.

This year, more than ever before, the music of the Exposition has been of the finest quality. For the last three weeks of the Exposition, beginning October 5th, the famous Gilmore Band, under its new conductor, Victor Herbert, will be the great attraction, giving four concerts daily, two in the afternoon and two in the evening. Victor Herbert is one of the best all-around musicians in the country, being so distinguished as a composer that his comic opera, "The Wizard of the Nile," is next month to be put on the leading comic opera theatre in Vienna, while as a performer on the violoncello he has no peer in the country. With him Gilmore's Band has been entirely rejuvenated, and is, perhaps, the most artistic organization of the kind in the United States. It comes direct from the St. Louis Exposition, where it has been filling an engagement of three weeks, and where its success was phenomenal.

The Train Ran Away.

Pittsburg, October 2.—Two freight trains collided at Philson, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, making one of the worst wrecks in the history of the road. While going down a steep grade the crew on No. 74 lost control of the train. As the train shot around the curve at Philston the east bound train struck the other train and every car on the former was thrown to the common center of the collision and ground almost to atoms.

A Cumberland dispatch says: Twelve tramps have been taken from the wreck, two of whom were dead. The others were brought to this city and placed in the hospital and are in a serious condition. Trainmen say that a number of men who had been attending the Bryan speaking on Wednesday, and who were on their way to their homes, in Myersdale, Pa., were riding on the bumpers so it is thought that there are others still under the wreck. It is thought by officials here that some of the men riding the bumpers cutjoff the air, thus causing the wreck.

Among the trainmen injured were the following: Engineer Reane, of train No. 74, perhaps fatally; John Cornell, front brakeman, seriously injured; Freman Shaw, bruised very badly. Other trainman were cut and bruised.

A Sultan Disappears.

Zanzibar, October 2.—Khalid, who on August 26 proclaimed himself sultan of Zanzibar, after the death of Sultan Hamid Bin Thwain and took refuge in the German consulate after the bombardment and destruction of the palace by British warships on August 28, has been spirited away by the Germans despite the British request for his surrender. At the extreme flood of the tide, when the water was almost level with the German consulate, which is at the waterside, Khalid was conveyed on board the German war sloop Seadler, under the protection of a guard of armed German sailors. The Germans did not notify the British authorities of their intention to remove Khalid from the consulate, nor did they inform the British of the the fact that his removal had been accomplished.

When the British consul learned of the affair through other sources he made a vigorous protest, which has not yet been answered by the German consular authorities.

Shot Down by his Friend.

Williamsport, October 4.—Yesterday afternoon John Anderson met Lynn Munson, a life-long friend, in a saloon at Sheffield. The greeting between the men, who were under the influence of liquor, was extremely cordial. After a few words had passed the men quarreled over the privilege of purchasing the next drink. Without the least warning, Anderson drew a revolver and commenced firing at Munson, the bullets taking effect in his neck, shoulder and breast. Munson fell to the floor, it was supposed, fatally shot.

Anderson deliberately walked out of the saloon and sat down, after which he extracted the remaining cartridges from the revolver and then reloaded it. He then inquired if Munson was dead, and receiving no definite reply demanded an axe with which he could dispatch his victim. By strategy Anderson was overpowered and placed under arrest, to await the result of Munson's injuries.

Cardinal Satolli's Farewell.

Washington, October 5.—The last public mass in this country conducted by Cardinal Satolli and the farewell reception to him took place here yesterday, the mass being celebrated at St. Aloysius' church and the reception being given at Gonzaga college. At the mass also was the first public appearance of the new apostolic delegate, Mgr. Martinelli, Cardinal Satolli's successor. Rev. William O'Brien Pardow, provincial of the provinces of Maryland and New York, made an address at the reception and preached the sermon at the mass in the morning. The high pontifical mass at St. Aloysius' was one of the most impressive that has ever taken place in a church here.

BLOCKED BY SHIPS.

Filibusters Can't Get Out of Jacksonville.

THE CRUISER NEWARK IS THERE.

Revenue Cutters Joined by the Naval Vessel to Help Prevent the Proposed Expedition to Cuba—Deputy U. S. Marshals Swarm the Ships.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 7.—The government has put a strict watch upon Jacksonville to prevent any filibustering expedition from leaving port. The cruiser Newark, which left Key West last Saturday under sealed orders, is now anchored off the St. John's bar, where a commanding view of the entrance to the river is to be had. The revenue cutters Boutwell and Merrill are anchored in the stream at the foot of Liberty street within 100 yards of the filibustering steamers Three Friends and Commodore, which are tied at the same wharf. The Merrill arrived from Charleston. Captain Kilgore of the Boutwell said that both cutters would remain here to prevent a suspected expedition from getting away. The inference was also drawn from his remarks that the stay of the Newark at the mouth of the river would be indefinite.

A statement that the Dauntless would be blown up if it should attempt to leave port, which has been attributed to Captain Kilgore, was addressed to Engineer Deveraux of the Dauntless in jest, the two men being old friends. However, Captain Kilgore has positive instructions not to allow any of the alleged filibustering vessels to leave port without permission of the collector of customs, who in turn communicates with the treasury department. With such permission the Dauntless left for Brunswick, Ga., yesterday to engage in towing.

The commodore was to have left port to do some towing on the coast and it was given permisson to go providing an officer from the Boutwell could be placed on board. The boat did not go, but remains tied up at the wharf watched by the two cutters.

Besides all this, deputy marshals are stationed on the Three Friends and the Commodore, and there is not even a possibility that the anticipated expedition can leave port.

FLORIDA DEMOCRATIC.

The Party Carried the State by a Good Majority.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 7.—In the general election for state and county officials held throughout Florida there were three tickets in the field for state officers, Democratic, Republican and Populist, and also for county officers in nearly all the counties. The gold Democrats supported the Democratic ticket and there is no doubt of its success by a good majority. In the election the Australian ballot system was used for the first time in this city. The result of the system was very satisfactory and the election passed off very quietly.

Several important amendments to the state constitution were voted on, the most important being one to abolish October elections. It is believed that this amendment has been adopted.

Hill Will Support the Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Elliot Danforth, chairman of the Democratic state committee has returned to town after having had an interview with Senator Hill at Albany. He assured callers at head quarters that the senator would give his adhesion to both the national and state Democratic tickets. Mr Danforth left it to be questioned, however, if Senator Hill will accept the Chicago platform.

Manufacturers Want a Reduction.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 7.—Committees representing the green bottle manufacturers and workers are at present conferring at the Monongahela house on the schedule of wages to be in vogue during the next fire. The meeting was called by the manufacturers, who want the men to consent to a reduction of 30 per cent from the full list. The workers desire the full list rates restored, but everything points to an amicable settlement of the difficulties.

A Foreign Missionary Meeting.

All the rivers in that state were flooded out of their banks and a number of villages and farm houses were swept away. Over 100 bodies have been recovered and many others are missing.

A Woman's Body Found.

—On Wednesday of last week a small oil stove in the residence of Mr. Peter Gutwald, of Gallitzin, was accidentally upset by the children while at play, and immediately exploded, throwing the flames all over the room. —The largest ear of corn ever seen in this sectson of the country was placed on exhibition at the fair by D. A. Luther, Jr., of Carrolltown. The ear was 31 inches in length and 15 inches in circumference. Mr. Luther had many calls for seed, but the price of $1.00 per pound looked rather high for the farmers, besides the seed would be useless to a man who did not own a planing mill. It was a very fine ear of corn, however, and had many admirers.—Carrolltown News.

—The superior court has decided that the act of assembly passed in 1887 and known as the Livery act is constitutional. The act makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment, to wilfully damage the property of a livery stable keeper. The law was made to cover cases of careless or reckless driving, but in numerous counties of the state the courts have declared the act to be unconstitutional on the grounds that the purpose was not clearly expressed in the title. Numerous prosecutions have been awaiting this decision.

—A heavy freight on the Pennsylvania railroad, parted at Donahue station, twenty-six miles east of Pittsburd, about 4:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and came together again, smashing fourteen cars. —The Altoona Times of Tuesday says: Joe Morrello, king of the Italians, took about forty-two sons of Italy over to Patton on Johnstown accommodation yesterday morning, where they will go to work on the new Cambria county railroad, which is to run from Patton to Spangler. The Cambria county railroad is said to be an extension of the Beech Creek in the direction of Pittsburg. George S. Good & Co., have the contract for building the road from Patton to Spangler. The length of the new branch is nine miles and when completed will make the entire length of the Beech Creek from Williamsport to Spangler 159 miles.

—Mr. William Glass, a well-known citizen of Gallitzin, died at his home in that place on Monday afternoon, from paralysis. The deceased was born in Munster township, where he resided on a farm until about ten years ago, when he removed to Gallitzin where he resided until the time of his death. He was twice married and is survived by his wife who is at present seriously ill, and five sons and three daughters, viz: Gallitzin, of Milwaukee, Edward, of Loretto, Frank, Winfield and Sherman, of Munster, Annie, of Loretto, Mrs. H. J. Eberly, of Munster, and Mrs. John Noel, of Lewistown. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Susan Gallagher, of Pine Grove, Munster township, and and Mrs. Sara McGuire, of Loretto, both aged widows, the latter being 47 years a widow. —The signs of good water are—that it soon heats and cools; that in summer it is cold, and in winter has a slight degree of warmth; that a drop dried upon a white handkerchief leaves behind not the slightest stain; and that it has neither taste nor smell. It is also a sign of good water, that, when boiled, it is sooner heated and afterwards cools sooner than another, but this sign is not near so infallible as the judgment that may be formed of the quality of water by the fele. A hard or soft water is a water the particles of which adhere more or less closely to one another. The weaker the adhesion, the less they resist the touch, and they produce less sensation in the hand, because they may be much more easily separated. Hard waters render the skin rough, but soft ones smooth. The former cannot boil meat or vegetables tender, which the latter do without any difficulty.

—John B. Stonebraker, ex-supervisor of Rush township, Clearfield county, was waylaid and brutally assaulted by some as yet unknown person or persons on Thursday night of last week, near the Osceola bridge. He had delivered a cow to a resident of Osceola and received $20 in payment for the same. He visited some of the hotels during the evening, drinking with friends, and started on his way homeward about 11 o'clock, having, however, left the balance of the money with an Osceola friend. Shortly after crossing the bridge he was suddenly attacked, the culprit hitting him with a club, or other weapon, over the head and leaving him in an unconscious condition by the roadside, where he was found the next morning. He is terribly cut about the head and face and other portions of his body, and it will be some time before he will be able to leave the house. The offenders have not yet been located.

Ballot this Fall.

The ballot which will be voted in the state this fall will contain nine columns. The Republican party will be first, then will follow Democratic, Prohibition, National, People's, Socialist-Labor, Free Silver, Jeffersonian and a blank column in the order named. The surnames of the presidential candidates of each party are placed in the column just below the circle above the electors. To the right of the names of the candidates is a large square, in which the voter by making a cross votes for the entire thirty-two candidates for electors in that column. A voter desiring to vote for any other candidates below the electors, in any other column, will be required to put a cross mark opposite each name.

This form of ballot differs materially from any form used since the enactment of the Baker ballot law in 1891. Colonel John A. Glenn, corporation deputy auditor general, has prepared the plan, and the ballot is expected to give more general satisfaction than any yet adopted.

Political Bulldozing.

Leonard Keck, one of the leading business men of Greensburg, had an experience with an eastern firm a few days ago that will open the eyes of a good many as to the methods employed by the Republican party to discredit silver coin, and, incidentally, create a sentiment for McKinley. Mr. Keck received a large invoice of goods from the firm referred to, and accompanying it, by mail, was a bill for the same, upon which was stamped; "This bill must be paid in gold or its equivalent." Mr. Keck is not a man that is easily scared, much less can he be coersed or bulldozed. Accordingly, by return mail he peremptorily demanded of the presumptuous firm that unless the obnoxious conditions were recalled he would ship the goods back at the firm's expense. It is unnecessary to state that his demand was speedily complied with; they had "waked up the wrong passenger."—Greensburg Argus.

A MASTERLY LETTER.

Arthur Sewall Formally Accepts the Nomination.

THE GOLD STANDARD ARRAIGNED.

The Vice Presidential Candidate Pours Some Hot Shot Into the Gold Bug Ranks—Free Silver the Sole Remedy For Our Ills.

BATH, Me., Oct. 7.—Hon. Arthur Sewall, Democratic candidate for vice president of the United States, has made public his letter of acceptance. It is as follows:

Hon. Stephen M. White, Chairman and Member of the Notification Committee:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to accept in writing, as I have already verbally done, the nomination tendered by you on behalf of the Democratic party as its candidate for vice president of the United States. And in so doing I am glad first to express my satisfaction that the platform of our party, which has commanded my life long allegiance, is honestly and fully declaratory of all the principles and especially of the absorbing financial issue upon which as you say I took my stand. "When the hours of triumph seemed remote and when arrogant money changers throughout the world boasted that the conquest of the American masses was completed."

These principles have been of late in abeyance, but only because those whom we trusted to maintain them have failed to do so, those principles can never die. We have rescued our party from those who under the influence of the money power have controlled and debased it. Our mission now is to rescue from this same power and its foreign allies, our own beloven country. This is the first and highest duty imposed by our party platform; upon the performance of the duty all other reforms must wait. The test of party principles is the government they assure; the proof of good government is a contented and happy people, and the supreme test of both is the ability to guide the country through crisis as well as to administer the government in ordinary times. Our people now face a crisis, a crisis more serious than any since the war. To what party shall they turn in their dire emergency? It is true that the present crisis may not involve as equally, that there are those who do not suffer now as it may not suffer should the crisis threatened by the gold standard come on in all its fury.

Human selfishness makes these deaf to all appeals, but to these, fortunately, the Democratic party has never needed to appeal to win its battles, nor does it now save as there are some among them who can rise superior to self in the sacrifice which such a crises demands of every patriot. We are told that the country has prospered under the present monetary standard, that its wealth has enormously increased. Granted so, but in whose hands? In the hands of the toilers, the farmers, the miners, the fabricators in factories, the trusters of the nation's wealth in peace, its defenders in war? have they the prosperity which was theirs so late a 20 years ago? I deny it. They deny it. None affirm it save those whose interest it is to do so. Whose profit would diminish as prosperity returns to those on whose distress they thrive?

All is indeed right between capital and labor. The "best money in the world" is none too good for those who have got it but how is it with the 90 per cent of our people who have "got it to get?" How is it with those who must buy this "best money in the world" with the product of their own labor? These are the people for whom the Democratic party would legislate late. What is the best money for these is the question for all to ask who really love this land. How else can you increase labors' purchasing power but by increasing the price of labors products? Is it a fair measure of values, that in our great producing section ten bushels of potatoes must be paid for a dollar, ten bushels of oats for a dollar, six bushels of corn for a dollar, three bushels of wheat and all other products of the soil, and mines, and the labor of all wage earners at the same ratio? Does any fair mind say this is honest money that forces such an exchange, and if it is not a fair exchange, is it honest, is it less than robbery?

This is the condition to which the single gold standard has brought us. Under it the appreciation of the "best money in the world" has increased the wealth of the rich, and for the same reason has increased the debts of the debtor. So it has been, so under the present standard it must continue to be. With these object lessons about me, little need have we for history and statistics, and the studies of scholars. Little satisfaction it is to us that they have warned us long since of the deadly evil of the gold standard. It has brought us at last to the parting of the ways. Whither shall the people go—in the way that has led to the enslavement, or into that which offers them their only chance to regain individual liberty, lasting prosperity and happiness? Let not our opponents charge us with creating class distinction. Alas, for the republic they are already here, created by the Republican policy of the last 30 years, created by the very system we would now overthrow and destroy. Nor do we raise a sectional issue. The nomination you tender repels the charge.

None knew better than I that this nomination is meant as no personal tribute, but as an assurance that our party is a non-sectional party. Not by our policy, but only by the continuance of the gold standard can sectionalism be revived. Neither shall our opponents be permitted to terrify the people by predictions that temporary disturbances or panic will come from the change we propose. The American people will be loyal to the nation's money, will stand behind it and maintain it at whatever value they themselves may put upon it. Once before in the present generation have our people been called upon to face a momentous crisis. What then said Mr. Lincoln, the chosen leader of the plain people of the land? Was he awed by threats or weakened by the wily persuasion of the false friends, who, as today, pleaded for compromise with wrong. His answer was:

"If our sense of duty forbids this, then let us stand by our duty fearlessly and effectively. Let us be diverted by none of these sophistical contrivances wherewith we are so industriously placed and be labored, controvenes such as groping for some middle ground between right and wrong reversing the divine rule and calling not the sinners but the righteous to repentance, such as invocations to Washington, imploring men to unsay what Washington said, and undo what Washington did. Neither let us be slandered from our duty by false accusations against us. Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

We know well the nature of the struggle in which we are engaged, we are anxious only that the people of the land shall understand it, and then our battle is one. Behind the strong entrenchment of the gold standard are gathered all those favored classes it has fostered, the only dangerous classes of the land. A varice and unholy greed are there, every trust and combination is there. Every monopoly is there, led by the greatest monopoly of all, the monopoly of the power of gold. With us in our assault upon these entrenchments are all these unselfish men, who not having suffering themselves, cannot rest content with conditions so full of sufferings for others, and that vaster number of our people who have been sacrificed to the small and selfish class who now resist their attempts to regain their ancient rights and liberties. These are the patriots of 1896; the foes of a "dishonest dollar" which enriches 10 per cent of our people to rob the rest; the defenders of the homes of the land, the public morals and the public faith, both of which alike forbid the payment of government obligations in a coin costlier to those who have to pay than that the contract calls for; the defenders of the honor of the nation whose most sacred charge is to care for the welfare of all its citizens.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver is the sole remedy with which to check the wrongs of today, to undo the ruin of the past and for our inspiration we have the justice of our cause and those cherished principles of Jefferson and Jackson, which shall be our guide on our return to power. "Equal and exact justice to all men, absolute acquiescence in decisions of the majority, the vital principles of public, the honest payment of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith." Profoundly sensible of the high honor of the nomination you tender,

I am, truly yours,

ARTHUR SEWALL.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION

Democrats Admit a Republican Majority of 10,000 Next Month.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 7.—Of the 168 towns in the state elections were held in 162. Returns have been received from 146 of these towns. Those not heard from are isolated and without wire communication and containing so few voters as to be of inconsiderable importance. Of the 146 towns heard from 133 have elected the Republican ticket, which shows a gain of 12 towns over the election of last year.

These towns have given the Republican majority, averaging about 100, indicating an approximate majority in the state of 15,000. Of the 16 towns now missing, nine are considered as safely Republican with insignificant Republican majorities. These missing towns, together with the larger towns of New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport, Derby, Ansonia and Naugatuck, where no electsons were held, according to the estimates of the Republican managers, would give a Republican majority in the state of about 20,000.

At the Democratic headquarters, however, while they concede an apparent Republican majority of 10,000 or 12,000 they claim that local issues were too sharply defined to permit of an expression on the national issues, and that the Republican majority in Connecticut on Nov. 3 will not exceed 10,000.

THE CZAR IN PARIS.

He and the Czarina Given a Royal Welcome by French People.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The entrance of the czar and czarina into Paris was the occasion of wild demonstrations by the populace all the way to the Russian embassy, where they are stopping.

President and Mme. Faure called and then the royal pair went to church.

The czar then drove to the Elysee palace alone in order to return the visit of President Faure, and the czarina returned to the Russian embassy.

Later in the day Mme. Carnot, widow of the late president of France, and her son called at the Russian embassy and had a brief but cordial interview with the czarina.

The czar after leaving the Elysee palace drove to the residence of M. Loubet, president of the senate, and M. Brisson, president of the chamber of deputies, where he left cards.

Later he went to the palace. President Faure, surrounded by the members of his military household, met the czar at the portico of the palace, and after warmly shaking hands with his majesty they proceeded to a salon, where they remained in conversation for 20 minutes.

The president then conducted the czar to another salon, where the ministers were presented to his majesty, and thence the latter was escorted to the Grande Salle des Fetes, where 500 senators and deputies were presented to the distinguished visitor.

On returning to the Russian embassy he received the presidents of the chambers, the cabinet ministers and the members of the diplomatic corps.

Later the czar and czarina attended a dinner at the Elysee palace. Then they went to the theater.

POISONED BY WHITE FISH

Hysterious Deaths and Sickness In Wisconsin Places.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7.—Cases of poisoning from eating smoked white fish continue to be reported. Three deaths thus far have taken place at Merill, Wis., where Albert Radloff, Gus Krueger and a man whose name is not given, succumbed. Krueger died this morning. Radloff's father and two other children of the family are very ill from eating the fish. Several others in the town are in a critical condition. Altogether seventy cases of poisoning are reported at Merrill. Four more cases are reported here. The victims are Theodore Suhr, his wife and two children. Their condition is quite serious.

Following so closely after the prostration of all the students in Concordia college in this city, and the similar affliction of over 50 people who ate the fish, the news from Merill is causing quite a panic from fish eaters and dealers. Twenty additional cases are reported from Brotherton, on the east shore of Lake Winnebago, the family of George Weber, consisting of himself, wife and five children, being in a serious condition.

The analysis by the Milwaukee health authorities developed the fact that the fish partaken at Concordia college contained the poisonous germs called ptomaines. The state board of health will investigate the cases at Oskosh, Brotherton and Merill.

ENGLISH HAVE A MONOPOLY.

No Use For Americans to Try to Compete In South America.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Among the passengers who reached this city on board the American line steamer New York was Secretary G. W. Fishback of the American legation at Buenos Ayres in company with a party of 15 American manufacturers who had been studying commercial interests in South America.

The entire time consumed in Brazil and the Argentine Republic was one unbroken series of fetes and banquets, the people in every instance turning out to do the party honor.

Secretary Fishback said that at the preset time it was impossible for the United States manufacturers or merchants to compete with the English in the great commercial centers of South America. The English have establishments in every center, and ships to transport the goods hither and thither.

The remains of E. S. Bacon, who died during the trip, was brought over on the New York and was removed to Erie for interment tomorrow.

MURDERING TRAMPS

The Horrible Charge Against Brakemen on an Eastern Road.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 7.—The police of this city believe that brakemen of the Consolidated railroad have been ruthlessly murdering tramps caught stealing rides on cars of that line. It is asserted that ten bodies, all mangled by being run over by trains have been found on the tracks of the Consolidated within the last six months.

The dispatch states that a man named Moloney from Brooklyn was shot twice and thrown from a train by the train hands, but survived his injuries and has given information to the authorities, which led to the arrest of a brakeman named Bean. The latter, according to the story, confessed to the superintendent of police of New Haven that the trainmen made it a practice to kill tramps found on their cars.

Pittsburg May Get a Game.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7.—The champions and the Cleveland ball team have gone to Cleveland where they will play as many of the remaining games as may be necessary to settle the contest for the Temple cup unless a seventh should be required, in which event Pittsburgh will get it. It is announced that the total receipts for the three games played in Baltimore amounted to but $4,500.

HOOSIERS TURNED OUT

Immense Crowds Heard Bryan at Indianapolis.

GAVE BYNUM A HOT ROAST.

He Quoted Some of the Gold Democrat Leader's Speeches, Showing How He Has Changed Front on the Silver Question—A Big Reception.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—The reception accorded William Jennings Bryan on his arrival in Indianapolis was as nearly as great as any he has received during his entire trip. He made five speeches here, two in the afternoon and three at night, and at each meeting he addressed immense audiences, one of which was nearly as large as that addressed by him on the Boston Common, the largest of the campaign.

The Bryan party arrived in Indianapolis at 12:45 o'clock, and was received at the station with great enthusiasm from many thousands gathered about the station. He was taken immediately to the Grand hotel, and the parade from the depot to the hotel was a continuous ovation to the candidate.

The Cleveland club in Prince Albert coats and silk hats, the Indianapolis Republican Silver club and the Gray club acted as escorts, and the parade passed through streets lined with people, the principal thoroughfares being so crowded that the sidewalks were roped off in order to keep the crowd from pressing upon the carriages.

After dinner Mr. Bryan addressed the largest crowd of the day at the state house. Every inch of available standing and climbing room was taken. The park in front of the state house was packed with humanity, the streets on either side were crowded, and people were gathered in the windows of the buildings across the street in order to see the candidate, even if they could not hear him. Probably less than one-fourth of the audience heard his speech, but those who were able to get within the sound of his voice were enthusiastic to a degree.

It would be an impossibility to estimate the crowd so great was it. Mr. Bryan began talking at 3:15 o'clock and made a half hour's speech.

After the nominee had concluded his remarks at the state house he was taken to Tomlinson hall, where he spoke to as many people as could be gotten into and in front of the balcony where he stood. This meeting was also enthusiastic and often during his speech the candidate was stopped by the demonstrations of approval. At night he spoke to three more audiences, one to the Commercial Travelers' association in the Grand hotel and one from a platform outside the courthouse and one in Tomlinson hall. The speech inside the hall was to the laboring men of Indianapolis.

His remarks were applauded to the echo.

In his state house speech Mr. Bryan made some hard slaps at Mr. Bynum, one of the principal leaders of the gold Democratic movement. He was dealing some hot blows at the gold Democrats when a voice said:

"Give it to Bynum."

Mr. Bryan said:

If you want to know what that distinguished citizen—

A voice—"Extinguished?"

Mr. Bryan—The gentleman suggests extinguished citizen, but I will say distinguished because he has a past, whether he has any future or not. If you want to know what he said about the gold standard let me read from his speech in favor of silver in 1886.

"Again, the advocates of gold approach us with open hands and smiling countenances, but I fear with a dagger beneath their coats."

Ah, my friends, he understood the nature of the animal before he began to associate with it. He is right in his description. The gold standard never fought an open fight. It carries the knife of the assassin and does its work behind the mask of a burglar. It is not at, open, daylight, never was and never will be.

Now see, see, how well he understood them. He said:

"Oh," they say, "we want silver. We are bimetallists, but we want an honest dollar. Suspend coinage and we will drive England, Germany and other nations to bimetallism, and then the price of silver bullion will appreciate and our dollar will be worth a hundred cents."

That is what he said in 1886. My friends, instead of saying now that we will adopt bimetallism and drive other nations to it he says that we will stand by the gold standard and allow other nations to drive us away from it. I might also quote to you what Mr. Bynum quoted in that speech from Mr. Ingalls. Now, note the language quoted from Senator Ingalls:

"No enduring fabric of national prosperity can be builded on gold. Gold is the money of monarchs. Kings regret it, the exchanges of nations are affected by it; its tendency is to accumulate in vast masses in the commercial centers, and to move from kingdom to kingdom in such volumes as to unsettle values and upset the finances of the world. It is the instrument of gamblers and speculators and the idol of the miser and thief. The object of so much adoration it becomes haughty and sensitive, and shrinks at the approach of danger, and whenever it is most needed it always disappears at the slightest alarm; it begins to look for refuge, it flies through the nations at war to the nations at peace. War makes it a fugitive. No people in a great emergency ever found a faithful ally in gold. It is the most cowardly and treacherous of all metals. It makes no treaty that it does not make. It has no friends whom it does not sooner or later betray. Armies and navies are not maintained by gold. In time of panic and calamity, shipwreck and disaster, after comes the chief agent and minister of ruin. No nation ever fought a great war by the aid of gold. On the contrary, in the crisis of greatest peril it becomes an enemy more potent than the foe on the field. But when the battle is won and peace has been secured gold reappears and claims the fruits of victory."

Made a Sensational Confession.

NEWPORT, Ky., Oct. 7.—The case of John Seward, the detective charged with the subordination of perjury in the trials of Jackson and Walling, has been postponed. William Trusty, Sr., father of William Trusty, Jr., whom Seward introduced as a witness to swear that Pearl Bryan was found dead in Cincinnati and could not have been murdered on the Kentucky side of the river, made a confession, stating that certain attorneys offered $500 for such evidence and that Seward got his son to testify accordingly and then kept all money.

Will Meet on Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Venezuelan boundary commission will meet next Saturday for the first time in several months and it is expected that considerable business will be transacted. At least a large quantity of matter pertaining to the inquiry with which the commission is charged has been collected by the agents who have been engaged all summer in this country and Europe, and much of this will be in shape for final consideration.

A Skirmish With Strikers.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Oct. 7.—A report has reached military headquarters of a skirmish at the Resurrection mine between soldiers and strikers. Eight armed men approached close to the mine and opened fire on the guards. Both the soldiers and their assailants sought shelter behind rocks and kept up the shooting about 20 minutes. No one was hurt as far as known.

Bishop Bachman Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The twenty second annual convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' association is being held here, President J. C. Eliel of Minneapolis in the chair.

THEY DEFIED THE RAIN.

More Delegations Went to Canton to Hear McKinley.

CANTON, O., Oct. 7.—The regular west-bound train brought two extra coaches to this city filled with shouting McKinley men from East Brady, Clarion county, Pa. They were headed by a band and banner announcing the party as "Plutocrats of Clarion county, Pa." The delegation was introduced by N. E. Graham and addressed by Major McKinley from his front porch.

No more enthusiastic callers have been here than those from Tonawanada and Buffalo and Syracuse, N. Y., and Lenawee county, Mich. And through the drenching showers the callers marched to the McKinley home, making the city resound with their enthusiasm, while mounted troops and large bands of music, and finely drilled companies uniformed in Mackintoshes evoked cheers from the thousands who stood sheltered in the doorways and under awnings while the visitors marched by. The formal receptions of the visiting delegations did not end the demontrations. Soon as the city was shrouded in darkness, the clubs were again on the street, Michigan and New York and Ohio uniting to form the spectacle. When the parade was well organized it marched and counter-marched past the McKinley home, and was reviewed from the little stand on the front lawn by Major and Mrs. McKinley, President Higgins of the Indiana and Republican league and members of the McKinley household.

A special train of five coaches arrived bringing the lumber dealers of Buffalo and Tonawanda. This was a distinguished appearing and thoroughly enthusiastic delegation. It was composed of business men connected with the lumber trade, and according to the statement of the spokesman, including many former Democrats. The reception was held in the Tabernacle, rain preventing a demonstration on the lawn. Millard S. Burns made the introductory address.

Shortly after 5 o'clock a special train of five coaches arrived, bearing the Republican clubs of Syracuse, N. Y. Most prominent in this was a handsomely uniformed and well-drilled Syracuse escort, an organization affected in 1864. There were also representatives of 13 other clubs, including a detachment of wheelmen. The delegation was introduced by Daniel Crichton, a business man.

A few minutes after the Syracuse party arrived a special train of ten coaches reached Canton, bringing a delegation named in honor of Lenewee, and organized in the county of Adrian, Mich. The party was made up of about 90 per cent of farmers. The delegation in a pouring rain marched to the McKinley home to view the lawn. They then returned to the Tabernacle, where Henry C. Smith made the introductory address.

PRESIDENT ON A YACHT

BUZZARD'S BAY, Oct. 7.—The president has left on the Oneida. As every thing was in readiness there was no delay in the departure of the yacht and in a few moments after Mr. Cleveland reached here she was steaming down the bay. Private Secretary Thurber is also the guest of Mr. Benedict on the trip. It is expected that the party will not reach Jersey City before Friday, as it was the intention to spend considerable time fishing as they proceed.

Mrs. Cleveland, with the children, traveled in a special car attached to the regular New York, New Haven & Hartford train for Boston. This car was dropped at Middleboro, and being taken up later by another train, proceeded on to Taunton and Providence and thence to Greenwich to visit Banker Benedict's family.
